

WHAT OUR CUSTOMERS ARE SAYING

“I would estimate that we have cut content development time by 66%, simply by being able to easily reuse what’s already been created in Xyleme.” – Allina Health

“Modular content is the root of our adaptability for rapid & agile distribution — it’s huge for our business — and centralized management of branding for our outputs has been a game changer for us.” – Cisco Stealthwatch

“Xyleme is easy to use and allows us to focus on making the content better. It has been a terrific time and cost savings for us.” – Ford Motor Company

“The ability to link content across learning solutions (instructor-led, web-based training, tip sheets, reference guides), has significantly cut down on our education content development time.” – Regional Healthcare Provider

“The ability to distribute content anywhere we can insert a link has been a game changer. Xyleme has gone to great lengths to forge a personal, trusting, & supportive relationship with our team. Their customer success programs are outstanding.” – National Telecommunications Provider

“Xyleme’s cloud-based platform allows us to work as remote team of internal and external colleagues around the globe. With a repeatable content/publishing model in place, we are currently authoring and publishing thousands of reusable learning objects per year, each of which are discrete and reusable. Our learning objects can be easily reused and repurposed for e-learning, print, virtual classroom, and in-person training.” – ACAMS

“Xyleme has helped us better manage the content that we create. Not only are the authoring tools powerful, but the reuse is a great asset to any company. I really like that working with Xyleme isn’t just purchasing software, they’re a partner with us. They do a great job of listening to their customers.” – Regional Oil & Gas Provider

“Xyleme [provides] powerful flexibility & efficiency for both developing & delivering content...all while retaining the ability to track & monitor course consumption & progress.” – Global Healthcare Technology Services Provider
